

Imitating animal sounds is important for Language Development. Games, songs, and books help babies and toddlers hear, imitate, and play with sounds which is crucial to learning to read and write.

Language Development Activities

- Take an outside sound walk. Listen and imitate sounds you hear outside, birds, cars, or wind.
- Sing songs daily. This is a great way to encourage your baby or toddler to practice his vocal sounds.
- Have toddlers guess what animal you are by acting it out. Then let your child act out an animal for you to guess.

Thank you to PoWeR! Book Bags for the generous donation of this book.
www.powerbookbags.org

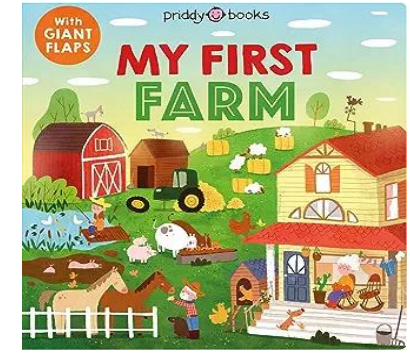

Imitating animal sounds is important for Language Development. Games, songs, and books help babies and toddlers hear, imitate, and play with sounds which is crucial to learning to read and write.

Language Development Activities

- Take an outside sound walk. Listen and imitate sounds you hear outside, birds, cars, or wind.
- Sing songs daily. This is a great way to encourage your baby or toddler to practice his vocal sounds.
- Have toddlers guess what animal you are by acting it out. Then let your child act out an animal for you to guess.

Thank you to PoWeR! Book Bags for the generous donation of this book.
www.powerbookbags.org

Imitating animal sounds is important for Language Development. Games, songs, and books help babies and toddlers hear, imitate, and play with sounds which is crucial to learning to read and write.

Language Development Activities

- Take an outside sound walk. Listen and imitate sounds you hear outside, birds, cars, or wind.
- Sing songs daily. This is a great way to encourage your baby or toddler to practice his vocal sounds.
- Have toddlers guess what animal you are by acting it out. Then let your child act out an animal for you to guess.

Thank you to PoWeR! Book Bags for the generous donation of this book.
www.powerbookbags.org